1. Dead Spy

Standing in front of my camera's phone. You said you might go weird. On the first night of our first day
The call came in and they took you away. But not to be weird. I might shoot this song over the sea.
Because I've got places that I need to be. But instead I cry for dead spy. I've got a life that I need to write.
Yours was a lie, dead spy.. Too ra loo ra loo ra lay.

2. Royalist

Understanding that this is a mess was the first place I went. Underneath a canopy sky in the snow.
These places and how I go. Romanticize its streets and the kiss. Compare the kids to the place I miss.
Stockholm it must be centuries old and I grow. These places and how I go. In the castle and keeping a list is the royalist and I.

3. Television World

And in my television world I am honestly there. And in my television world I am not reading off the paper.
In my television world I feel perfectly fine. And in my television world I am the one pushing all the buttons/blinking lights. And you can't save me from all this acting. Because when I want to I can go away.
And in my television world I go away.
